

FATHER CHRISTMAS INVITES YOU TO CHRISTMAS PARTY PERSONALLY

Yes, what you saw was true. A group of Father Christmas clad people were standing at the crossroads of the Business Management Building, Engineering Building and University Town to distribute flyers that say “Welcome to our Christmas Party!” They were not alone, either. Some angels were with them stuffing candies in the hands of passersby. Can’ t complain about that, can you?

Should you wonder where these Father Christmas look-alikes and angels come from, they are actually the students of the Department of Electrical Engineering who cordially invite everyone to their party on this Saturday. So, be there, if you can. (~Ying-hsueh Hu)

2010/09/27

