

Foreign Student Study Workshops at Lanyang Campus

In order to help the foreign students at TKU' s Lanyang Campus more readily understand and grasp the principles behind Chinese writing, a 'Foreign Student Study Workshop' will be held at the Lanyang Campus on March 29. It will involve two-hour classes, with 5-8 foreign students per class.

Lesson content will include topics such as 'How does Chinese punctuation work?' ; 'How to master written Chinese' ; and 'How to effectively structure a Chinese written document' , among others. The workshop is designed to take away foreigners' fears of writing Chinese documents, especially essays.

For those wishing to take part in the class, please contact Miss Wu at the TKU Center for Learning and Teaching.

2011/03/29