

Partnering with Northwest University

TKU recently concluded a new sister school agreement with Northwest University, China. The partnership will involve joint research on topics of mutual interest, exchange between scientific researchers, mutual visits, and internship programs.

Northwest University was established in 1902 as Xiayi College. It was later renamed and is now one of Mainland China's "key development" universities.

Tamkang now has 35 partner universities in Mainland China.

2013/02/27