

International Museum Day

May 18 is International Museum Day, a global tradition that started in 1977. To lend support to the major international event, the TKU Maritime Museum held a series of tours and events on May 17 and 18. The activities included regular guided tours, a hands-on exercise in which participants created their own paper boats, and separate tours for elementary and high school students.

2013/06/08