

International Film Industry Honors TKU

【Wan-xuan Qin, Tamsui Campus Report】 New young director of the Department of Mass Communication, Wei-shan Yu, has created a new film that is a big hit, becoming the first Taiwanese filmmaker to be honored by Hawaii's International Film's "Network for the Promotion of Asian Pacific Cinema Award." Wei-shan Yu's film is titled, "The Kids" and follows a young junior high school student's life that already has a child of her own. Wei-shan Yu explains, "My wish was to bring people into the world of unmarried parents to show them many of the difficulties and stress that is involved. I will continue to do my best to make great films in the future. I'm very thankful to my team and everyone who has helped me on this journey."

2015/12/04